To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Letter of Recommendation for: Kenton Pass and The Sawhorse Company, 120 N. Tejon, Colorado Springs, CO 80903

In January 2001, Linda and I entered into an agreement for a total renovation and addition to a 1924 craftsman cottage located at 30 Broadmoor Ave. in Colorado Springs, Colorado. January 2001. We consulted several builders and found Kenton honest, sincere, and capable of completing this project based on his past experience and confirmed references. We did not make our selection based on the "low bidder", but on a comfort level with being "joined at the hip" in a process that we wanted to be positive throughout and without conflict and confrontation. This was a major renovation and required close coordination by all parties to insure the end product was in keeping with our vision and his expertise.

We met on a weekly or bi-weekly basis during the process with Kenton, the on-site supervisor, and/or architect to resolve issues during the construction period. Kenton was always professional, personable, and clearly delineated the evolving project.

The end product more than met our expectations. Kenton performed admirably and, we believe, is just as proud of the end result as we are.

We recommend Kenton to anyone considering a project such as ours and believe Kenton and his company stand above the rest in meeting the customer needs and providing a quality project.

Respectfully,
